

Fall 2018

Preview the Seventh Season!

As a center for the arts in East Dallas, St. Matthew's Cathedral Arts revives an ancient tradition of cathedral churches in proclaiming the presence of God through the beauty of human creativity, bringing vitality to St. Matthew's Cathedral, our neighborhood and greater Dallas.

The 2018-19 Cathedral Arts Season begins September 13.
Here's a first look at the exciting artists and free public events in store for you!

CONCERTS

Professional musicians bring their amazing talents to the Great Hall each season, and this year is no exception! Eight free public concerts are scheduled in the coming months, including a special evening of love and laughter in music with Lucy Creech and friends, a brilliant piano recital from Alessandro Mazzamuto, an evening of chamber music with Jonathan Tsay and the Cézanne Quartet, a vocal recital from Mary Dibbern and friends, and the exciting operatic tenor Jay Gardner!

JUSTUS SUNDERMANN GALLERY

Important Dallas-area visual artists continue to bring spectacular and moving exhibits to the Sundermann Gallery. Cathedral Arts will host four major exhibitions this year, beginning on September 13 with Juliana Crownover's intimate look at everyday life, Walking to School, followed by a dazzling collection from Annie Ehrenreich entitled Sacred Space—Visual Voice. The Sundermann Gallery is a real treasure—a warm and inviting space to meet the artists and experience their creativity first-hand!

ANNUAL GALA AND SILENT AUCTION

The immensely popular annual Cathedral Arts Benefit Gala presents With One Look: The Music of Andrew Lloyd Webber on October 12. Enjoy a fabulous dinner with wines and champagne, a huge silent auction, and entertainment from some of the best singers in Dallas! Proceeds from this signature event help support the seventh season of free public arts and educational events at St. Matthew's Cathedral.

DISTINGUISHED ARTIST RECITAL

This season's Distinguished Artist Recital brings one of the most gifted pianists of our time to the Great Hall on February 8. Émile Naoumoff has been likened to both Vladimir Horowitz and Arthur Rubinstein. At the age of seven he became the last composition student of Nadia Boulanger, who referred to him as "The gift of my old age".

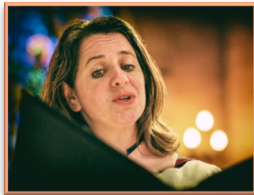

Yehudi Menuhin conducted the premiere of Émile's first Piano Concerto, with the composer as soloist, when he was ten years old. Émile regularly performs with the world's premier orchestras. His recital promises to be one of the finest music events yet presented at Cathedral Arts!

EVENSONG : FESTIVAL OF LESSONS AND CAROLS

Cathedral Arts boasts a fine professional chorus, joining the wonderful organists Keith Franks and Artist-in-Residence Damin Spritzer for its frequent Evensong services, and the entire community is always welcome. The music, the words and the beautiful surroundings invite you into a few moments of quiet contemplation before a busy week begins, away from the endless distractions of modern life.

On December 16, the Advent season brings A Festival of Nine Lessons and Carols, unfolding the Christmas narrative with beloved choral settings and scriptural accounts established in 1918 by King's College Chapel, Cambridge. Don't miss this wonderful and deeply meaningful addition to the holiday season!

CATHEDRAL ARTS JAZZ

D Magazine writes, "You must hear jazz vocalist Damon K. Clark. He's simply the most gifted male vocalist in DFW. Incredible." The 2018-19 season ends June 7, when Cathedral Arts brings the famed Damon K. Clark Trio for a great evening of jazz, wine and hors-d'oeuvres in the intimate Justus Sundermann Gallery. Don't forget to save the date!

It's actual magic that happens when a well-executed art form transports, and thereby transforms, the performers and the audiences for which they perform. There's little else that has such immediate potency, in my mind. When we get it just right, and we try to always do just that, there is a perfect and effervescent marriage of edification and entertainment! - Damon Clark

The arts reveal the sublime nature of the human experience, and we invite your participation and support.
